Topics in Children's Health

Education Conference for Pediatric Providers

The Topics in Children's Health Conference is an educational event where pediatric subspecialists share quick, practical updates on the top referral concerns, offering pediatric providers insights they can immediately apply in their clinical work.

Objectives

The 2026 Topics in Children's Health Conference is designed to strengthen collaboration between primary care providers and pediatric subspecialists across the Intermountain West. Through concise, high-yield "Top 3" presentations, attendees will gain practical, evidence-based guidance to recognize common referral concerns, initiate appropriate evaluation and management in the primary care setting, determine clear referral thresholds, and apply effective co-management strategies that improve coordination and outcomes for children and families

Target Audience

This conference is designed for pediatricians, family physicians, advanced practice providers, residents, and fellows who care for infants, children, and adolescents. It is ideal for providers seeking practical clinical updates and clearer referral and co-management pathways with pediatric subspecialists.
